The College English Association, a gathering of scholar-teachers in English studies, is now accepting proposals for our 47th annual conference. In keeping with this year's theme of "Creation," the special topics chair for digital humanities welcomes proposals for papers, presentations, and panels that address (but are not limited to)

- DH projects (digital collections/archives, digital editions, interactive maps, 3D models, etc.)
- DH research methodologies (text analysis, visualization, GIS mapping, etc.)
- DH pedagogy (teaching strategies, curriculum development, project collaboration, etc.)
- DH centers (supporting research, consulting services, faculty/student collaborations, etc.)
- DH theory
- digital project development and/or management
- data curation
- the future of DH

Papers and presentations should run no longer than 15 minutes; panels, no longer than 45 minutes. Please submit the title and abstract (200-500 words) to http://cea-web.org by 1 November 2015. Submitting electronically involves setting up a user ID and then using that ID to log in in order to submit a proposal to the conference. If you are submitting a panel with multiple participants, please create a user ID for each proposed participant.

If you have questions about the DH sessions, please contact Leigh Bonds <leigh.bonds@case.edu>. For more information about the CEA conference or the general program, please visit our website http://cea-web.org or email us <cea.english@gmail.com>.
